CODE OF CONDUCT

AutomationEdge

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Document Control Section 2

1. Professional Behaviour: 3

Section 2 3

2.1. Exclusive Service and Other Primary Conditions of Service: 3

2.2. Confidentiality Undertaking 4

2.3. Secrecy: 4

2.4. System security regulations: 5

2.5. Information security 5

2.6. Intellectual Property Rights (IP Rights): 7

DOCUMENT CONTROL SECTION

Department			IT
Policy Owner			Mahesh Badge
Applicability			All Employee
Version	Date	Entry / Change	Created by/Changed By	Reviewed By	Approved by
0001	25.01.2020	Original Issue	Chandra B P	Rohan S	Mahesh B
0002	22.01.2021	Reviewed and updated – non- compliance of the information security section- Annual review	Paresh Ghule	Rohan S	Mahesh B
0003	27.04.2022	Reviewed and updated Table of Content – Annual review	Paresh Ghule	Rohan S	Mahesh B
0004	10.03.2023	Annual Review	Chitra K	Gajanan K	Mahesh B

1. PROFESSIONAL BEHAVIOUR:

The following are examples of infractions of rules of conduct that may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

- Smoking inside the office premises is strictly prohibited.
- Working under influence of alcohol or any intoxicant drugs prone to cause damage or disturbances.
- Possession, Distribution, Sales, Transfer, or use of alcohol or illegal drugs in workplace, while on duty, or while operating employer-owned vehicles.
- Violence (any verbal abuse or physical violence) in the workplace
- Theft or inappropriate removal or possession of property.
- Indecent behaviour causing harm to company's reputation.
- In the event of Company having a reasonable ground to believe that the employee has demonstrated / is guilty of misconduct, unacceptable behaviour, unacceptable approach, fraud, dishonest act, misappropriation of money, data theft, confidential information leakage, negligence, under performance, found competing with the Company, caused any loss to the Company.

SECTION 2

2.1. EXCLUSIVE SERVICE AND OTHER PRIMARY CONDITIONS OF SERVICE:

- An employee shall, at all times, diligently and faithfully serve the company and is required to devote his / her full time and attention exclusively to the business and interest of the company and to the best of his / her skills carry out the duties assigned. An employee cannot, without prior written permission of the company, engage in any other profession, vocation, business, or any part-time or full-time employment with any person, firm, government, or other company.
- An employee shall not have any private financial dealings with persons or firms having business relation with the company for the sale or purchase of any material or equipment for his / her own use or supply of labour for any other purpose.
- During his / her employment tenure with the company an employee shall not develop any software, product, or literature with any personal / commercial vested interest in mind. All efforts shall be totally dedicated to the interest and professional growth of the company and every employee shall hold himself/herself in readiness to perform any duties required thereof by his/her superiors to the best of their ability.

- Breach of these rules of exclusive service and other general conditions would amount to misconduct, liable to punishment in accordance with the company's rules and the defaulters shall also be liable for termination.

2.2. CONFIDENTIALITY UNDERTAKING

- During the course of your employment with the company you may come into possession of or acquire valuable information / technical know-how and proprietary information etc. (herein with referred to as "Information"). The term Confidential Information shall mean and include all proprietary code, secret information, technical data or know-how, formulae, designs, photographs specifications, software programs and samples and/or any other material belonging to the company / its clients/ vendors.
- All the employees should recognize, the importance of maintaining the Information and undertake to use such Information wholly and exclusively for the benefit of the company and shall not disclose the same to any person whether as an employee of the company or not, except under general authority in the usual course of business of the company.
- The company has full and absolute title over all Information made available or provided to the employees during the course of their employment with the company, and the employee can make no claims of any interest therein.
- On the cessation of employment with the company for whatever reason, the employee shall return all information, notes, MIS reports, drawing, documents, storage devices, and other property of the company, covering/relating to the information of the company received/obtained during the course of the employment.
- All employees are required to sign a Non-disclosure agreement at the time of joining, which will remain with the company only.

2.3. SECRECY:

2.3.1. NO EMPLOYEE CAN DURING HIS / HER SERVICE WITH THE COMPANY:

(a) Voluntarily, or otherwise, engage in any part of India or abroad, in givinginformation or advice on matters related to the activities of the Company (Company/ clients/ Vendors), its pricing policy, production costing, sources of material supply, or any other confidential matters, except to the extent authorized by the Management. In cases where the employee has to give any such information or advice, it should be backed up by appropriate writtenauthorization.

(b) Except in the ordinary course of duties, disclose any information or matter concerning the operations of the Company that is in the nature of a trade or business secret / strategy / policy.

(c) Communicate to public papers, journals, pamphlets, or leaflets or cause to be disclosed at any time any information or documents, official or otherwise, relating to the Company except with the approval of the Management.

(d) Breach of this rule is considered as misconduct and the employee is liable for punishment in accordance with the rules.

2.4. SYSTEM SECURITY REGULATIONS:

- It is the responsibility of all employees to maintain the integrity of -the company and work related information. Therefore, the protection of information and company property must be treated as critical in the interest of the company.

2.4.1 NON-COMPETE:

- All employees during the term of their employment and for a period of 12 (Twelve) months thereafter will not engage themselves , directly or indirectly without the prior written consent of the Company, with or without remuneration, in any trade, business, occupation or calling which is similar to or the same as that carried on by the Company, nor shall they undertake any activities which are contrary to or inconsistent with the Company's interests or compete with the Company in any way whatsoever.

2.5. INFORMATION SECURITY

2.5.1. INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY VIOLATIONS:

Violations of Company Information security policy may include, but are not limited to any act that:

- Does not comply with the requirements of policy;
- Exposes Company to actual or potential loss through the compromise of security;
- Involves the disclosure of confidential information or the unauthorized use of Company information;
- Results in loss of Company information;

- Involves the use of the hardware, software or information for unauthorized or illicit purposes which may include violation of any law, regulation or reporting requirements of any law enforcement or government body;
- Violates any laws which may be introduced by the Government of India from time to time or any other laws imposed on Company
- Disclosure of Password by user.

Any person who becomes aware of any loss, compromise, or possible compromise of information, or any other incident, which has information security implications, must immediately inform his/her Immediate supervisor or Information Security Manager (ISM), who shall initiate immediate action to prevent further compromise or loss.

2.5.2. NON-COMPLIANCE OF THE INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY

- Non-compliance to the minimum requirements or violation of company information security policy could result in action that may include, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Suspension
2. Termination
3. Any Other disciplinary action
4. Civil and/or criminal prosecution

2.5.3. THE DECISION WILL BE TAKEN INVOLVING THE FORUM MEMBERS AS PER PROCESS

Information processing and communications technologies are integral to the delivery of products and services to customers. The development and operation of technology- based systems throughout the company has created growing dependence on timely and accurate information.

It is essential that these systems are protected from misuse and theft, the data processed on these systems, and the communications facility Employee with these systems be operated and maintained in a secure environment.

The IT department will conduct routine diligence checks to protect the computer systems from unauthorized use, viruses etc. All the employees are required to follow system security regulations listed below to ensure high reliability and smooth functioning.

- Employees will be given the necessary access to a computer / Local Area Network and Internet. It is necessary to follow the assigned access limits strictly.
- The employees should not make illegal copies of various soft wares made available to them.
- No employee should install any personal software / hardware on any computer. All employees are required to use software / hardware provided by the company. Any additional requirements may be communicated to the IT department in a standard format.

- Password must be kept confidential and must be changed from time to time in order to ensure security.
- Any computer terminal / workstation must not be left unattended without logging out or locking. The computer and its peripherals must be put in power-off mode before leaving the office.
- Unnecessary e-mails must be deleted periodically to conserve server space.
- System security instructions/ regulations issued by the IT department must be strictly followed.
- Regular backups of work must be taken on local hard drive in order to avoid unexpected loss of important work.
- Floppy disks, CDs, documents, or any other hardware must not be carried out of office premises without appropriate permission.
- Only software required for a particular project should be installed on every employee's machine. In case he / she has acquired permission to install any additional software on his / her machine for learning purposes, the same shall be allowed for a limited period only.
- Employees have to adhere to the ISMS for the clients of AE working for in different location.

2.6. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS (IP RIGHTS):

The term intellectual property covers literary, technical and artistic works, designs, ideas, inventions, know-how, goodwill, and reputation of the company (company/ its clients/ vendors).

Any work done by an employee while in employment in the Company shall be deemed to be the intellectual property of the company, and not his / her own personal property, whether or not it has been developed in the premises of the company.

Any employee found guilty of misappropriating or damaging the intellectual property rights of the company shall be liable for termination without any notice and legal action.